Evans, and is one of this city's most attractive and deserving young girls, charming in manner, an accomplished musician, and an exceptionally attractive young woman, who is exceedingly popular with old and young alike, she is in every way well suited to make the man of her choice an ideal help-mate.

County Court Day Market Was Active

April Court Brings Large Crowd to Town—Plenty of Stock And Many Sales

April Court Day brought a good crowd to town and there was a run of stock, probably 1,200 head of cattle in the pens. The best 800-lb. steers sold at from 8 to 11 cents per pound; heifers at 7 1-2 to 10 cents; bulls at 7 to 8c; fat cows at 7 to 8 cents; canner cows at 4 1-4 cents per pound. The quality of the stock was excellent for the time of year, and the demand was heavier, buyers being here from several counties looking after cattle for grazing purposes. The prices were about steady, but quality was $1.50 per hundred better. Practically all of the sales made were by the head. We heard of one sale of a fat bull at 9 cents per pound, but he was extra good. Sam Keeton sold to May Brothers, of Bath county, 12 500-lb. heifers at $47 per head, and a bunch of 525-lb. steers at $49 per head; George W. Halsey sold to John Vice, of Bath county, 7 heifers, weighing about 750 pounds and fat, at 10 cents per pound; John Greenwade sold 15 steers, 800 pounds, to Cynthiana parties, at $81 per head; one bunch of fancy 660-lb. steers were sold at 11 1-2 cents per lb., and another bunch of 14 extra good steers sold at 10 1-2 cents, but buyers and sellers refused to give their names; W. J. Ratliff, of Bath county, bought about 50 head of steers and heifers at an average price of 10c per lb.; William Davis sold a bunch of cows and heifers to Chas. Goff, of Clark county, at 6 cents; Mike Wilson sold to Salt Lick buyers 25 good 700-lb. steers at 11 cents.

There was a good bunch of ordinary mules on the market, but few good ones were offered for sale. Quite a number of buyers and a few sold at from $200 to $235 per head. We heard of an offer of $340 for one good mule, which price was refused. Among the buyers who made some purchases were Fletcher Mann, of Lexington; Caywood and McClintock and Bert McClintock, of Bourbon county.

There was quite a number of walking horses on the market of medium to good quality and several were sold at from $125 to $175, with William Tipton selling one good six-year-old gelding to Caywood and Hamilton, of North Middletown at $225.

Many ponies were offered and some sold at from $60 to $200, the latter price being received by C. G. Pangburn for a nice pony sold on Saturday to Badger Robertson, of this city.

HOG MARKET OPENS

Turley and Crouch, local buyers, purchased the past week 1,000 head of fat hogs for immediate delivery at 15 cents per pound, straight.

WHAT THINK YE?

This story which we are about to give to our readers was delivered by Dr. Finley Gibson, pastor of the Third and St. Catherine Baptist church before his congregation Sunday, the 11th. Here it is as published in a Louisville paper.

"While in Memphis last week I was told that it contained the most wonderful negro man I have ever heard of, that this negro could blow his breath on my handkerchief and set it afire. I said it was impossible; that I could not and would not believe that such a thing could be done; that such an almost impossible freak of nature I could not believe until it had been demonstrated to me, and others in my presence.

"The negro, who is a devout Christian, 60 years old, was brought before me with a number of other ministers present. His sleeves were rolled up and he was made to wash his mouth thoroughly with ice water. I held my handkerchief before him and he blew his breath against it, and to my astonishment, it was set afire. Here is the handkerchief." He showed it with four burned holes in it to the congregation.

"Now, if you don't believe me, go to Memphis and see for yourself." continued Dr. Gibson. "This negro man is employed in the Illinois Central Railroad shops in that city. He has been offered $700 a week to exhibit this wonderful gift he has possessed since a child, on the stage, but has refused, saying that the good Lord endowed him with this remarkable gift and he would not commercialize it."

Should we be inclined to swap with Dr. Gibson we would narrate the incident of the negro who was here some time back and who to all appearance would swallow a lighted cigar, would give perfect sound of the engine bell, the engine whistle, the steam start, and smoke and sparks of fire would emit from his mouth as from a stack of an engine. This was a wonder of that day.

UP AND DOWNS OF A BUSINESS MAN'S LIFE

The following is the true answer of a wealthy man to his bank's letter calling his collateral loan. This comes direct from the bank president:

"For the following reasons I am unable to send you the check you asked for:

"I have been held up, held down, sand-bagged, walked on, sat on, flat-

Dear Editor—I lost a white dress between the Opera House and Lloyd's Cafe, the night of April 11th. You were seen to pick it up—return this dress to me immediately or take the consequences.—Mrs. O. U. Rounder.

Yes, Mrs. Rounder, I remember of picking up your lost dress, but I thought it was a handkerchief, and I threw it away.

If Jack Dempsey can dodge blows like he did the draft Georges Carpentiere will think he's caught in a whirlwind.

The following conversation was heard at a card party the other afternoon:

"Mrs. X—I don't see how the dressmakers can measure, she is so corpulent."

"Mrs. Z—She takes a surveyor along with her."

Mr. Hoover states he's not for the Democrats and will not accept nomination on that ticket.

"Isn't he a shrinking violet? He relieves the Democrats of one sore tooth."

Tested Eighteen Months to Prove Perfection

TWO years ago a puncture-proof cord tire was unheard of. The public clamored for it; all tire makers tried to build it.

Lee was making the only successful puncture-proof pneumatic fabric tire. Motorists naturally looked to Lee for a puncture-proof cord.

Lee has succeeded in building such a tire. It has all the economy and resiliency of the best cord tires. It practically eliminates blowouts, tread separation, broken sidewalls and other common tire troubles. And it is positively puncture-proof.

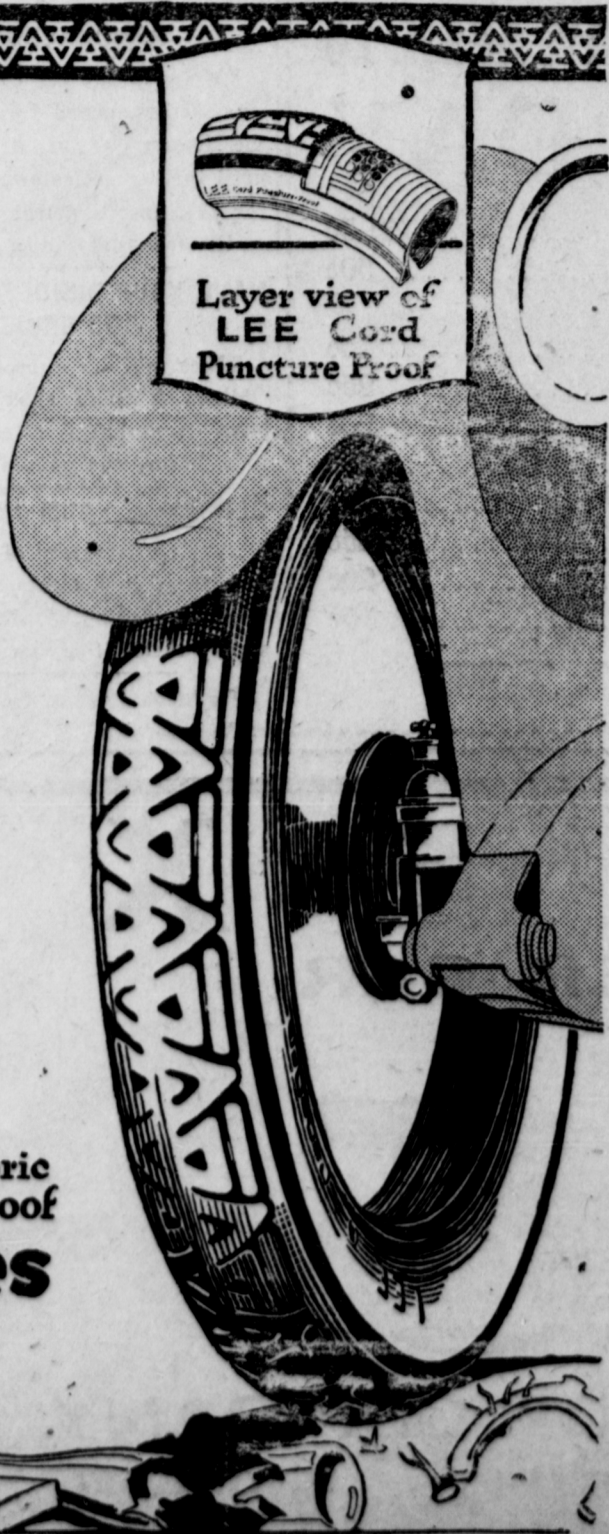

For 18 months this tire was cruelly tested before being offered to the public. It rode as lightly and as smoothly as a cord without the puncture-proof feature. It was as economical on fuel and oil. It was easier on tubes. And—it outlasted cord tires that were not puncture-proof!

Let us demonstrate the economy of the new Lee Cord Puncture-Proof.

Preference for Buick Valve-in-Head motor cars becomes more pronounced each season—and this favoritism shown by the motor car purchaser of today has taxed the Buick factory's production to the limit.

The five hundred thousand Buick cars now in daily operation are making Buick history. Their efficiency, faithfulness and value have established this fact in the minds of the world—"there is no substitute" for Buick Valve-in-Head quality and service.

THE STATE CONVENTION

The Democratic State Convention, to be held in Louisville May 4th, will in reality be a big conference of Democrats from every quarter of the State, of all shades of belief.

It will be a convention in which every element in the party will be recognized, but the recognition will be given their Democracy, and nothing else. Members who have been prominent in the so-called factions which have heretofore existed in the party will receive honors from the convention, but they will receive such honors as Democrats and not as factionalists.

The convention will, we believe, steer clear of party strife, because strife is certain to bring disaster, while harmony is the sure harbinger of victory.

It will be a notable meeting of Kentucky Democrats in Louisville on May 4th. No such proscription tactics as those which marked the recent Republican State Convention in Louisville will be countenanced. There will be no A. T. Hert in the Democratic party to whom allegiance superseded allegiance to the party itself. No dotted line will have to be signed by the delegates.

It will be a free and untrammelled discussion of men and measures by the representatives of all Kentucky

Democrats, and those Republican gentry who are so eagerly looking for trouble are doomed to disappointment.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market. I have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it.

It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (NR Tablet) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the winter's accumulation of decaying filth and refuse in alleys and streets of cities and towns, and especially in and about the back premises of almost all homes, rich and poor, in cities, towns and country districts, constitutes an annually recurring menace to the health, life and comfort of the entire population of Kentucky, which easily and inexpensively can be hauled away and spread upon gardens and farms, where it is much needed if all classes of people will lend a hand in the work, now,

THEREFORE, be it known that the State Board of Health, by virtue of authority vested in it by law, hereby joins the State Federation of Women's Clubs in designing and proclaiming the period from April 26th to May 2nd as "Clean-up Week," this to include liming and white-washing, for every home in Kentucky; and in this health and life saving work the Board earnestly appeals for the full and active co-operation for the entire week of all city and county officials, day and Sunday school teachers and pupils—their duty to begin with the school house and grounds so as to make them models for the community—preachers and their church members, newspapers and every family and especially asking city and town officials and heads of families to furnish teams and the heavy labor necessary in hauling off the refuse which, with this encouragement, the women and children can be relied upon to collect at accessible places; and the board urges that the press, women's clubs, clergy and teachers give this proclamation such publicity as will make it effective, with the plea that the clean-up be repeated monthly until cold weather sets in next fall, except that it be weekly as to the manure in all stables where horses are kept in order to put an end to the breeding of flies.

Given under our hands and the seal of the board this 20th day of April, 1920.

TAKE A CHILD

As we are making a campaign for homes, we are asking you to kindly publish this appeal:

The Kentucky Children's Home Society now has in its receiving room, in Louisville, 225 children. They range in age from a few weeks to eighteen years, the youngest being a little girl less than three weeks, and the oldest a girl, eighteen years of age.

Owing to the fact that we have had no medium of which to tell the citizens the number of children we have, we have not had applications sufficient to place them in homes.

We make this appeal to the citizens, asking them to open their hearts and homes to these children.

There are many in the institution who are sweet and attractive, and will radiate God's richest blessings and sunshine to the families and homes who take them.

The majority of these children are ready for homes and when you take one of them you are obeying the injunction of our Savior, who said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

People who are not in a position to give a child good care and attention need not apply, for it is necessary for us to know that our children will be well cared for.

If a large number of these children are placed in the next 30 or 60 days we can relieve the counties of children who should be sent to us immediately, as it is impossible for us to take them until we place those we now have in the receiving home, and we hope that a great many of our Kentucky families will at this special time, find it convenient to take one of these children into their homes.

For information, address Kentucky Children's Home Society, Louisville, Ky., 1086 Baxter ave.

"I Feel Thirty Years Younger Since Taking Reese Formula R-11" Declares P. S. Buchannon of the Norfolk And Western Railway is Able to Come Down Stairs After Taking Half Bottle of R-11—Remarkable Results Obtained

 Due Solely to the Reese
 Formula He Says

Mr. P. S. Buchannon, who is connected with the Norfolk & Western Railway, and lives on Albemarle St., Bluefield, W. Va., was laid up with his stomach and after effects of the flu. He took one bottle of the Reese Formula R-11 and was able to come down stairs and attend to his work.

In a statement Mr. Buchannon tells in detail of the good received from Formula R-11 and his honest opinion of its merits.

"I have been suffering from my stomach and general weakened condition brought on by a severe attack of the flu, from which I barely survived. My system was so run down that I don't believe I would ever have been well again, but for the Reese Formula R-11. I bought a bottle of this wonderful medicine from the Goodykoontz Drug Store and before I had finished the bottle I was able to go down stairs and what is more, I feel better than I have for years.

Why I feel thirty years younger already. There is nothing I can say for the Reese Formula R-11 that is too good for it. I know it will help others as it has helped me, and I will do all in my power to acquaint all my friends with its merits."

The Reese Formula R-11 has been doing for hundreds in Mt. Sterling just what it did for Mr. Buchannon. If you suffer from stomach, liver or kidney trouble, if your system is all run down from the flu, go to your druggist or Wm. S. Lloyd's Drug Store, and get a bottle of Reese Formula R-11 today. It will certainly fix you up.

GOOD ROADS—THE PRACTICAL SIDE

These are divers viewpoints in the consideration of good roads, and like unto all roads leading to Rome, all logical thinking concludes with a oneness, GOOD ROADS. We may exhaust our storehouse in thinking on this subject and conclude that is all, but here is more, and from the pen of another, leading to the same end—GOOD ROADS:

"Those of us who have made observations for two decades have seen wondrous changes resulting directly from the use of the pleasure automobile. Once the city was the city, and the country was the country. Today they merge into one another. The city man knows the country as never before—is glad to have access to it, and to live in it when possible. The country man knows the city and frequents it often. Small villages of yesterday have become the rural metropolises that one finds here and there, and everywhere. This is all good, for it is well that a nation be knit together in the spirit of mutual understanding and in a reciprocity of advantage.

"But there are better arguments for good roads than those which apply merely to the pleasure car. We are told, on the authority of the government, that farmers lose $300,000,000 yearly in marketing their crops, because of bad roads. That is too much to waste. We should contemplate this figure in connection with the high cost of living.

"There is no more serious problem before us today than the matter of reducing the cost of getting the products of the farm to the table of the consumer. One step, at least, in the solution is plain—BETTER ROADS.

"As an instrument of economy the motor truck has not yet come into its own. Efficient servant as it is in certain restricted realms, it now awaits the further development of interurban and country highways to reach the measure of its full attainment. It has power and speed that put it outside the class of the horsedrawn vehicle, and a nimbleness and flexibility which gives it a certain advantage over the railways. It is my expectation to see it assume more and more the functions of the "short-haul" as its own peculiar province; in part, relieving the railways of those duties which they are least able to perform; and in part, expanding the field of our national transportation system.

"I say, therefore, all speed to the good roads movement! It will cheapen our methods of distribution and help to bring the people of our country closer to each other. I commend its common sense and practical wisdom. It may be less spectacular than some of our other national issues, but it strikes deep into the roots of fundamental progress."

The Church of God, on Queen street will be dedicated Sunday, April 25th. W. G. Chapple will preach the dedication sermon and the meeting will continue for a few days.

THE TRUE MEANING OF BEST IN THE LONG RUN

"Best in the Long Run" is a slogan that had its origin in the early forties, and is, therefore, about as old as Life Insurance in the United States. It grew out of the reputation of the STATE MUTUAL LIFE and soon became a phrase of comparison whenever the discussion veered around to reliable Life Insurance.

As regards the STATE MUTUAL LIFE, it is not just a catch phrase. It is a plain statement of fact.

It is really a reflection of the trust reposed in a STATE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE POLICY.

In five words it crystallizes the ideals, the aims, the principals of the STATE MUTUAL LIFE.

It means "the long run" of good faith and honest interests—the steady building up of a confidence in the minds of the policyholders, WHICH IS THE GREATEST ASSET A LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY CAN HAVE.

That is how the STATE MUTUAL LIFE translates this slogan into terms of honesty, reliability, utmost dependability and correct methods in all its dealings with its policyholders.

LARGE BABOON ADOPTS FAMILY OF PUPPIES

It is a well known fact that the ordinary housecat has been known to adopt an entire family of puppies, and on rare occasions, a mother dog has reared beasts of the jungle variety, but never in the annals of zoology has a member of the monkey family been known to "mother" a family of puppies—until Fifi, one of the star actresses in Etta Myer's troupe of statue canines with the Sparks Circus recently gave birth to four healthy English setter puppies.

As it happens Fifi enacts very important roles in the canine dramas and statue numbers presented under the "big top" and during the performances cannot devote much of her time to the babies; therefore it fell to Miss Myers to provide an efficient nurse during Fifi's thespian duties. Ever since the birth of the youngsters Joe, a large good natured baboon of the dog-faced variety, who seemed to show such an untiring interest in the babies, that finally Miss Myers carefully approached his cage with one of the fuzzy mites, when, to her surprise, he held out both arms and upon receiving it, immediately began to "coo" in true monkey language and fondle it as only a mother's instinct knows—in fact he proved to be such an adept in the role of nurse that the babies quickly adopted him and during Fifi's absence in the ring it is one of the daily sights of the menagerie to see this simian nurse fondling his little charges.

The Sparks three-ring Circus will exhibit in Mt. Sterling Monday, April 26th.

FALLS CITY JAIL TO BE HOTEL

If you want a room for the Derby, stop at the Louisville jail. It's going to be a hotel. Jailer James H. Barr is arranging to accommodate "paying guests during the spring race meeting in that city in an effort to increase the revenues of his institution, which have fallen off seriously since the advent of prohibition. According to Mr. Barr the fees allowed for the upkeep of the jail are so meager and the number of prisoners has diminished so greatly that the institution cannot be maintained unless more money is brought in from some source. He has decided, therefore, to try to gain some revenue from the unutilized dormitory space. Mr. Barr, of course, does not propose to enter into competition with the hotels during normal times. On special occasions, however, such as the race meetings, when the city's rooming facilities are inadequate, he will offer accommodations at the jail to those unable to obtain rooms elsewhere. This accommodation will be furnished at $1 per night. The guest will receive a good, clean cot in a

NO OCCASION FOR SURPRISE

We see no reason why Senator Borah or anyone else should be surprised at the revelations regarding the million-dollar campaign fund of General Wood, or of the very pretentious sum which the managers of Governor Lowden are expending in the same pursuit.

The Republican party has always been the party that treated money and success in politics as synonymous. Since Mark Hanna bought the presidency in the open market in 1896 no Republican campaign manager has failed to attend to the little detail of raising a million or so to "round up the boys."

It was literally poured out of the Republican strong-box here in Kentucky in the State election last fall, and we may expect them to try to repeat the performance in 1920.

The Wood disclosures or the Newberry conviction will teach the Republican party nothing. It is the party of organization built on money, and without that it would be helpless in a campaign in Kentucky, just as it would be helpless throughout the country.

PRODUCE REVIEW

Marketing and distributing have been disturbed this week on account of the inability of railroads to move product, and the market quotations, instead of reflecting the general situation, merely reflect a local condition.

Receipts of eggs at primary markets are considerably lighter and generally being used for current consumption, very little stock being placed in storage.

Receipts of cream delivered to creameries this week show some increase, but there has been a larger supply of butter available in Chicago for local use.

It has been difficult to move dairy products to Eastern cities and this situation has caused values to fluctuate during the week.

There are large stocks of both butter and eggs in producing territories, which are not coming freely to the market on account of the railroad situation.

Movement of live poultry is extremely light and is governed entirely by the ability of the shippers to move it to local markets. As the railroad situation clears up values will reflect the actual trade conditions.

The defendant will give civilized answers to all civilized questions asked him in this column. If there is anything that worries you, write to me, care the Advocate. "I blush to say it, but, I know everything."

From the tightness of our young men's trousers this spring, it looks as though, instead of "bumming" cigars they will be "bumming" shoe horns to put them on with.

Things That Endure

The works of man that endure are all alike and vitalized by the same spark. That spark is the striving for an ideal that forgets pecuniary gain.

When the STATE MUTUAL LIFE began writing life insurance their goal was the achievement of an ideal—that ideal was Mutuality in its fullest sense—not merely a term to be used for its trade value.

And as the STATE MUTUAL LIFE has grown, this spirit has never changed. It has endowed every STATE MUTUAL LIFE contract with enduring worth.

A PLAY OF RARE INCIDENTS

Readers of Harold Bell Wright's greatest novel, "The Eyes of the World," will be interested in the fact that it has been translated into a magnificent motion picture by the Clune Film Producing Company, makers of the great film spectacle, "Ramona." The new production is to be shown in this city for the first time Thursday, April 29th, at the Tabb Theatre.

Few stories of the times offer greater scope for such a work. In the matter of scenic beauty, the San Bernardino mountains, the locale of so much of the romance, could not but inspire the producers. As for characterization, the actors have wonderful opportunities in the portrayal of the widely dissimilar characters who figure in "The Eyes of the World."

There is the burnt-out, bestialized rogue, Mr. Taine, wreck by his own excesses, a pitiable apology for manhood, still eager to maintain "the pace that kills," but physically unable to do so.

There is the young and voluptuous wife of Taine, a siren polished in manner and sinister in purpose, who intrigues to entrap the young artist in her meshes.

There is Conrad LeGrange, the cynical story writer, who confesses that he "haunts the intellectual slaughter pens" for material for his "successful" stories, but in whose heart still burn many of the kindly sentiments of his earlier days.

There is the young artist, Aaron King, ambitious for fame, who is on the point of debasing his talents for an easy way to success and becomes the shining mark for a designing woman.

James Rutledge, the bull-necked art critic, "born, bred and reared in an atmosphere that does not tolerate purity of thought," covets the virgin charms of a sweet young girl of the mountains, who typifies their beauty, purity and strength.

This girl, Sybil Andres, unconscious of the baser things that go with social "culture," whose innocence threatens to make her an easy prey for the libertine until a menacing crisis and her dormant protective instinct arouse her to a strength unknown to herself.

John Willard, the convict, first a boy in the flush and impulse of the human animal, later the hunted criminal, who, for a rash deed committed in behalf of a distressed sister, is sent to prison, escapes and wanders through the mountain growth.

Myra Willard, a pitiable bit of flotsam on the sea of humanity, disfigured for life by the act of a jealous wife, and carrying her scars through a tangled web of strange

"EYES OF THE WORLD"

A new bidder for popular favor, "The Eyes of the World," is coming to the Tabb Theatre April 29th.

"The Eyes of the World" is the first work of its kind dealing in a big way with California life in the present day and putting into pictorial form the most phenomenally successful romance of the times, while its characters are fresh in the minds of several million readers. The new production is based on the book of the same title by Harold Bell Wright, who personally took an active part in putting his famous characters before the camera.

California scenes of exceptional beauty are featured in "The Eyes of the World," whose episodes take place among the rose gardens and orange groves around the town of "Fairlands" (popularly supposed to be Redlands), and in the majestic mountains of Riverside and San Bernardino counties. Every effort was expended to make "The Eyes of the World" as notable for beauty as for dramatic value. Of the latter there is an abundance, as readers of the book will recall. There is the escape of the convict and his pathetic wanderings; the flight of the girl, Sybil; the kidnapping of this girl by Rutledge, who takes her to his mountain cabin; the search of the forest rang-

Carry The Country With Cox

Cox Can Win

Kentucky Democrats, you are asked to send delegates to the San Francisco Convention pledged to nominate a man who can win.

That man is James M. Cox, Governor of Ohio.

Here is a candidate whose record as a vote-getter is known.

Three times he has been elected Governor of the normally Republican State of Ohio.

Twice he was elected to Congress by big majorities over strong opposition.

He has been a winner in business, too, by his own merit and courage.

There is nothing in his record that should alienate a single Democratic vote.

There is much in his record that will command thousands of Independent and Republican votes.

His popularity was a big factor in putting the pivotal State of Ohio in the Democratic column in 1916.

Ohio's electoral votes are needed
this year; he can swing them.

What other Democratic candidate can?

The Cox Movement in Kentucky is backed by citizens who see in the nomination of Governor Cox Democracy's best chance for victory in State and Nation.

It is simply an effort to put Kentucky Democracy behind the one man who can win in November and, to insure success, all factionalism should be avoided and representative Democrats of character, intelligence and independence should be elected as delegates.

GOV. JAMES M. COX OF OHIO

Born on a farm March 31, 1870.

Educated in country school and high school.

Worked as farmer boy, newsboy, printer's devil and reporter.

Owens and publishes Dayton
Daily News and Springfield
Daily News.

Elected to Congress in 1909
and 1911.

Elected Governor of Ohio in 1912, 1916 and 1918.

Cox Is Worthy

Kentucky Democrats, you are asked to send delegates to the Democratic National Convention instructed to nominate a man who is worthy to sit in the White House.

You are asked to use your influence for the nomination of a self-made man, one who personifies the best traditions of red-blooded Americanism.

A man, who, born on a farm, without favoring conditions, has risen from newsboy and printer's "devil" to reporter, from reporter to editor and publisher of two great papers.

A man, whose neighbors, who know him best, have called him three times to the highest office in their State.

A man whom no interests have been able to swerve from what he considered to be his plain duty.

A man who adjusts differences between capital and labor without resort to troops.

A keen business man who says
"profiteering is the result of conditions carrying opportunity, if not preference, to one individual or class over another."

A normal American, neither reactionary nor radical, the kind of man who will restore normal conditions in a normal, American way.

Such a man is James M. Cox, the man who can win.

COX HEADQUARTERS

have been established in Rooms 1, 2 and 3, The Seelbach, Louisville, where Democrats who want to see a winner nominated will be welcome. Come in, write or telephone.

John D. Rockefeller isn't going into bankruptcy. He has bought himself an "electric".

Mt. Sterling may turn out more "pool sharks," than our "suburban" neighbor of Owingsville, but you have to hand it to that little "Hamlet" for turning out A-1 bankers.

There is a possibility that the reason that negro at Memphis can burn things in a person's hand is that he has been drinking Southern "hot shot."

Louisville people need more "pep."

you on his "meat" scales.

In an address before the joint session of the legislature Major General Leonard A. Wood is credited with saying: "The right motto in dealing with agitators is 'S. O. S.' 'Ship or Shoot,' and also added that 'they should be put on a ship of stone with sails of lead and their first stopping place should be h—.' There is no hint of Mr. Wood being radical in the least, but a sane and sensible person of ordinary intelligence will consider it not only radical, but nonsensical as well. Whoever heard of a stone ship sailing from here to h—? A very edifying statement delivered before dignified people of high official standing and by a very honorable official expecting to be elected, at least nominated for a still higher office. It can readily be seen why the money power is behind Mr.

Wood.

If our young women were as interested in the book "The cure of the home," as they are in the book "What a young woman ought to know," they would be a greater benefit to their mothers.

I can't see why all of the missionaries are sent abroad, when some of them are so badly needed in "Mil-

"Pessimist" Clerk—How do you any chocolate in it?

Oliver, it isn't the kind we men folks

Dear Editor (Facts and Fancies):
Do you think it is any harm for a girl to flirt with a man?—Anxious!
No, but be consistent. Be positive he is married.

Most of our present day young men think that "college bred" means a "loaf."

If they raise the "landlords'" taxes in proportion to the rent they are charging some of the "poor

The "over-sea boys" have another "firing" line to face. It's in front

The reason the "present day" young man does not tip his hat to the ladies is he is afraid he will muss up his beautiful "pomp."

BIG CIRCUS MONDAY

Get our all of your surprise ad-

Monday you will need them.

Monday there comes to town the big Sparks three-ring Circus for a day's stay on the regular circus grounds. The big show is to come here in two trains. It will arrive early Monday morning and by 8 o'clock the wagons will all be on the lot and the putting up of the circus, from the horse tents to the menagerie top will begin. By noon not a detail will be lacking for the giving of the performances that are to follow.

And many surprises are made this year for these performances. There will be the great Matoka who flirts with death twice daily while making his rapid slides for life on a narrow wire, from the extreme dome of the canvas to the ground, then, too, there will be the Sparks stable of dancing horses, the roller skating bears and the two herds of ponderous elephants—each herd being put through their elephantine antics by lady trainers.

Of course there will be clowns and plenty of them, while four bands of music and two shrieking calliopes will dispense the newest airs, ranging from the classic to ragtime, in the two-mile-long street parade which will take place at 10:30 o'clock. Two performances will be given at 2 and 8

Snowballing in Summer.

On the hottest day of the year in Chicago, with the mercury 98 degrees above zero, a crowd of boys on East Austin avenue amused themselves by throwing snowballs made from a drift of snow that steadily increased in size until it was more than three feet deep. The snow was being scraped from the pipes of a refrigerating company, on which it collects sometimes to a depth of six inches. It is scraped off every day.
